Jesse Young Advances to ‘On the Radar’ Washington Republican Candidate Takes Second Step to Achieving ‘Young Gun’ Status

Washington --- The National Republican Congressional Committee today announced Jesse Young as an ‘On the Radar’ candidate, the important second step in the ‘Young Guns’ program. Founded during the 2007-2008 election cycle by Reps. Eric Cantor (R-VA), Kevin McCarthy (R-CA) and Paul Ryan (R-WI), the ‘Young Guns’ program is a Member-driven effort that is the primary method for recruiting strong candidates for both open-seat and challenger races. Young is running for Washington’s Sixth Congressional District.

“We are looking forward to working with Jesse Young, who has already proven himself by meeting rigorous benchmarks in the ‘Young Guns’ program that will position his campaign for victory,” said NRCC Chairman Pete Sessions (R-TX). “Jesse Young’s dedication and experience enables him to advocate effectively for pro-growth policies and fight the failed status quo in Washington, D.C. This will stand in stark contrast to the Obama-Pelosi record of spending, borrowing and taxing that Washington families and small businesses know has failed.”

The ‘Young Guns’ program encourages candidates who have proven their ability to meet crucial campaign benchmarks to develop their campaigns further in order to achieve victory on Election Day. In achieving ‘On the Radar’ status, Jesse Young has met organizational and fundraising benchmarks and has already begun to establish himself as a strong contender. Young will now work toward even higher goals that will help him advance in the ‘Young Guns’ program and build an effective, winning campaign.

Jesse Young is living proof that if you are willing to work hard, you can achieve anything. Young came from humble – and often severely challenging – beginnings and worked his way to becoming a sought-after software consultant. Jesse Young is proud of his journey and wants all Americans to be able to do the best they can without government standing in their way. Young wants to bring his strong work ethic, his experience, and his love of the sixth district to Congress.
